This distinctive wallscape has a very long read to the LA Fashion District. If your goal is to make an impact in Hispanic out-of-home showings in the Los Angeles market, you will not find a more fitting location.

The Santee Alley is an actual alley located between Santee Street and Maple Avenue. The alley runs for only two blocks, but the elbow-to-elbow crowds come to shop at over 300 retail destinations. This open-air bazaar, located a few blocks away from the California Market Center, offers a truly unique showing in the LA market.
